OrderUp Story: Accelerating Customer Acquisition with Predictive

When Jonathan Vassil, VP of Sales at OrderUp (a Groupon company), had an objective to scale to 30 markets in 15 months, he needed a faster, more strategic approach for acquiring the best customers in new markets.

With Radius, he was able to combine a multitude of signals — social media engagement, gross revenue, high average review ratings, internal technology usage, and more — to make sure the right opportunities were being pursued in every market. This allowed OrderUp to quickly prioritize sales efforts and launch campaigns to top prospects, including campaigns targeting new look-a-like prospects.

RESULTS:

- 100% YoY customer growth
- Shortened sales cycle by 3 weeks
- 99.8% customer retention rate
